

Guide for Contributors

Nature of Articles: Articles should be based on Environmental Health Sciences research and include full-length manuscripts of original research not previously published elsewhere; short communications consisting of brief reports of new findings, short commentaries and reviews of various aspects of environmental health in Nigeria and other parts of the world. Manuscripts should be written in English.

Eligibility to Contribute: Contribution of articles to African Journal of Environmental Health Sciences (AJEHS) is open to all members of the Environmental Health Scientists Association, Nigeria, Nigeria Academy of Environmental Health and others engaged in Environmental Health research in Nigeria particularly, and other parts of the world.

Length of Manuscript: Manuscripts should be of reasonable length not exceeding 4,000 words of about 12 pages.

Preparations of Manuscript: Manuscripts should be typed double-spaced on A4 size paper with all pages numbered. Footnotes should be listed in numerical order designated with familiar symbols at the bottom of the page or below the tables and figures when necessary. Foot-notes should be used for references with the letter presented at the end of the text. Ample margins of at least 1.5 inches should be allowed at the top, bottom and left hand side of each page of the text. Capital letters should be used only for proper nouns and certain words derived from them, scientific names of genera, families, species, order etc, and the initial letters of all important works in the title of the paper. Main centre headings of important section of the article like abstract, introduction, materials and methods etc, should have the entire letter capitalized. The italics type, usually designated by underlining the words to be italicized with single straight lines, should be used for scientific names (genera and species), algebraic symbol, legends to tables and figures, title of books and periodicals. Names of chemicals should not be designated with chemical formulae. Only SI units would be acceptable. For words with two or more accepted spellings (e.g. organisation and organization), the version used in the concise Oxford Dictionary will be preferred.

There should be no numbering of the side headings. Side headings up to the third level only would be accepted in the body of the text. All the primary side headings should be in title case and the subsequent levels should be in lower case.

Title: The title of the manuscript should be free flowing in title case with not more than 23 words.

Abstract: Each article must be accompanied by a one paragraph non segmented abstract of not more than 250 words. The abstract should contain simple, factual and informative statements on the study objective, methodology, results and conclusion.

Keywords: A maximum of five keywords relevant to the subject of the paper would be accepted and this should come at the foot of the abstract.

Tables and Figures: Both Tables and Figures should be integrated into the text. Tables should be numbered consecutively in Arabic numerals and they should be able to fit into the pages of the Journal. Each table should be inserted after the page or where reference to it was first made. Figures include graphs, photographs or any other type of illustration. Figures should be numbered in Roman numerals. The number of figures, especially photographs, should be kept to a minimum and no figure should be used to represent what has been presented in a table. Graph should be drawn on an unruled paper or on squared paper with blue line, except where coordinate ruling is required to appear in print, in which case papers ruled in black or red may be used. Photographs should be of high quality and printed in glossy black or white papers. Coloured photographs will not be accepted in the interim. It is best to use photographs which are reproducible in their original size or reduced in the process.

References: References cited should be current (preferably not more than 10 years) and should be relevant following the Harvard style. A list of references should be presented in alphabetical order with the author's name (in capital) coming first followed by year of publication (in bracket): title of paper with only the initial letter of the first word capitalized; name of the journal in italics and abbreviation according to the Word List of Scientific Periodicals: volume number in bold, Arabic numerals; and pages of the journal referred to.

- Journal article

Gamelan, F.X., Baquet, G., Berthoin, S., Thevenet, D., Nourry, C., Nottin, S., Bosquet, L., (2009). Effect of high intensity intermittent training on heart rate variability in prepubescent children. Eur J Appl Physiol 105:731-738. doi: 10.1007/s00421-008-0955-8 Ideally, the names of all authors should be provided, but the usage of "et al" in long author lists will also be accepted: Smith, J., Jones, M. Jr, Houghton, L., et al., (1999) Future of health insurance. N Engl J Med 965:325-329.

- Article by DOI

Slifka, M.K., Whitton, J.L., (2000) Clinical implications of dysregulated cytokine production. J Mol Med. Doi:10.1007/s001090000086.

- Book

South J., Blass B. (2001). The future of modern genomics. Blackwell, London

- Book chapter

Brown, B., Aaron, M., (2001). The politics of nature. In: Smith J (ed) The rise of modern genomics, 3rd edn. Wiley, New York, pp. 230-257.

- Online document

Cartwright, J. (2007). Big stars have weather too. IOP Publishing PhysicsWeb. <http://physicsweb.org/articles/news/11/6/16/1>. Accessed 26 June 2007

- Dissertation

Trent, J.W. (1975). Experimental acute renal failure. Dissertation, University of California.

Proofs: Only one proof is sent to authors and it is desirable that alterations should be kept to a minimum to avoid extra cost of resetting which may be charged to the author. Where more words or phrases are added, letters or words of equal length should be removed so as not to undo the setting.

Publication Fees: Authors of manuscript accepted for publication are expected to pay a sum of (N50,000: Local authors and $150: International authors,) only as pagination fees per manuscript. Authors will receive a copy of the journal containing their manuscripts free but any additional copies must be purchased at the prevailing price from the Editorial Manager of the Journal.

Submission style: In the interim, manuscripts should be submitted via email attachment to editorajehs@gmail.com. However, online manuscript submissions would be the most preferred in the nearest future.

Correspondence: Manuscripts and all communications on editorial matter should be addressed to the Editor, African Journal of Environmental Health Sciences, a publication of the Environmental Health Scientists Association, Nigeria.

C/o Department of Environmental Health Sciences, Faculty of Public Health, University of Ibadan, Nigeria via editorajehs@gmail.com.

Copyright: Authors are expected to sign a copyright agreement form and submit upon acceptance of their manuscript prior to publication.